Swedish Jet Shot By Soviets

Military Plane,
Unarmed, Downed
Off Estonia; Crew
Picked Up by Boat

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (P)—Soviet jet fighter planes shot down an unarmed Swedish military plane off the coast of Estonia today, the government announced. The 7-man crew was picked up later by a German merchant ship. Two of the Swedish crew were reported wounded.

The plane was searching for missing with eight men aboard in the same area, where the Russians are reported holding vast air and sea maneuvers.

The Swedish government, reflecting the anger of people in the to the Russians.

Soviet Ambassador Constantine Rodionov was summoned to the foreign office to receive the pro-ester Tage Erlander, who is also foreign minister. Crowds in front of the Soviet Embassy jeered Rodionov as he left and spat into the embassy compound.

Sweden demanded an immediate investigation and prompt punishment of "those responsible for the outrage."

Erlander also delivered a second request to the Russians that they halt further espionage activity by their diplomats in Sweden. This note referred specifically to the trial which opened here today of seven Swedes charged with selling out this nation's entire vital northern defense system to the Russians.

Johan Fritiof Enbom, 33, Communist agitator and editor described as the master mind of the spy ring, pleaded guilty as the trial opened. He faces a life sentence.

Enbom was accused of leading the ring and using six others, including his brother, to collect military and industrial information for the Soviet Embassy officials in return for cash.

The Swedish military plane, a missing since Friday. It is feared that plane also was shot down by the Russians during their maneuvers. This would be a fate similar to one met by a U. S. Navy Private the same area two years ago with 10 men aboard.

Catalina was attacked about 60 miles off the Soviet-held Estonian coast. Swedish planes searching for the missing craft had been instructed to keep 15 miles off the Russian-held coast. The Russians claim 12 miles out as their own special territory.

hit "several times" by bursts of 20 millimeter cannon from two Soviet MIG-15 jet fighter planes. The Swedish Air Force said it had reports the plane was attacked seven times.

The German vessel put the men ashore on the island of Hangoe, on the southwest tip of Finland sink.

Georgia Democrats Going for Russell

ATLANTA (P)—Georgia Democrats today named a slate of 28 party officials and instructed them to vote for Sen. Richard B. Russell at the Democratic national convention.

Humidity's Hot

Those who sit in air-conditioned offices and figure out what's what with the weather say it isn't the heat that bothers us, but the humidity. But, the humidity's hot, isn't it?

Sunday was sure enough a scorching Sunday and today qualifies as Mildew Monday. With the forecasts as they are the seige of named days is at an end.

Those moderns who have had their difficulties trying to prove to Grandpa that winters in late years are as bad as their weather record talks to hot weather rather than cold. The old timers have nothing to compare with what modern summers have been—and are—suffering.

Central Missouri: Continued hot this afternoon, high near 95. Thunderstorms and cooler tonight, lowest in the 60s. Tuesday fair and cool, highest in the 80s.

The temperature at 7 a.m. was 72 degrees above zero; 95 at 1 p.m., and 97 at 2 p.m. Sunday high 99.

Lake of the Ozarks, 4.4; no change.

Thought for Today

Many believe the article of remission of sins, but they believe it without the condition of repentance or the fruits of holy life.—Jeremy Taylor.

Scripps-Howard Newspapers Back Ike as Nominee

NEW YORK (P)—The 19 Scripps-Howard newspapers today endorsed Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower.

In its lead editorial, the New York World-Telegram and Sun, one of the papers had decided by a vote of the editorial board to nominate him.

"We like Ike," the editorial said, "because he is a natural and inspirational leader. He is a great man not only in America but throughout the world. He has wide and unique experience in dealing with the problems of peace and war. He has demonstrated rare administrative capacity. He radiates hope and contagious confidence in America."

The editorial said the editors "have no bricks to toss" at Eisenhower's chief opponent for the GOP nomination, Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio.

"We admire Bob Taft personally and as statesman," the editorial said. "We respect his honesty and intelligence. We acknowledge his fine record of service to the country."

"But Ike seems to me to be the need of the hour. We like him for the same reason you do. He is a warm, friendly, modest man, who may not know too much about politics but he knows a lot about what is good for the country. "He can be elected."

In the 1948 presidential election, the Scripps-Howard papers backed Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York, the unsuccessful Republican candidate.

Nathan Jones is chairman of the ticket sales.

The city building and electrical inspector, R. E. Taylor, has reported that considerably over a half of a million dollars worth of building has been completed or planned for Sedalia the first half of this year. With 14 days to go in this month, when the half year mark is reached, the total amount of building either completed or planned has reached $648,000.

So far this month $6,600 additions have been completed along with $25,000 in new homes. $8,000 in a new business building and $5,000 for garages. This is a total of $44,600 for the first half of June.

In January, 10 new homes were planned at $3,000, three new garages at $1,800 and four improvements for $10,000 for a total of $4,800. In February 14 new homes were planned at $94,000, one new garage at $500 and five improve-

Lane Massey, Former Resident, Daughter, Drown

Lane Massey, 37, former Sedalia, and his daughter, Sandra Kay, 13, were drowned Saturday near Rock Island, Ill. The body of Mr. Massey was recovered a short time later, but the body of his daughter has not been found.

Mr. Massey was a brother of Mrs. Robert Moore, 1314 West Fifth, Sedalia. In the early thirties he spent one winter in Sedalia with his sister at which time he attended Mark Twain School.

No details of the drowning were received by Mrs. Moore other than his body had been recovered and a search was still being made for the daughter. The daughter was the oldest of six children.

He is survived by his widow and five other children, all of Rock Island; his mother, Mrs. Cora Massey of La Cygne, Kan., and a brother James Massey of Eldorado Springs, Mo.

The body will be taken to La Cygne for burial.

Triple Slaying Found In Lonely Mountain Cabin in West Virginia

LOGAN, W. Va. (P)—State police questioned a 38-year-old man further today in a triple slaying discovered yesterday in a lonely mountain cabin six miles from this mining center.

No charges have been filed against him, but state police say they believe he was in the area of the death shuck Saturday night.

All three victims were shot in the head with a rifle. They were Vicie Lucinda White, 24-year-old widow of John White, who was slain last March; Ervin Schoolcraft, 52, owner of the cabin, and Melvin Baisden, 75, a neighbor.

George White, John White's nephew, entered a guilty plea to voluntary manslaughter in his uncle's death, saying he had threatened him. He was sentenced last week to one to five years in prison.

Diplomats analyzing the Gromyko appointment, and related Kremlin assignments, including transfer of Ambassador Georgi Zarubin from London to Washington—suggested the Russians may regard the political situation in England as one of the weakest points of Allied unity and may seek to exploit it promptly and fully, making in the months ahead supreme effort to split the United States and Britain.

This situation has been created by attacks of the Aneurin Bevan action of the Labor party on the British government's cooperation with the United States and the whole costly business of building up Western defenses and in the conduct of the Korean War.

In May, 14 new homes were constructed at $88,000, one service station at $18,000, one soft drink stand at $4,000, three improvements at $2,800 and three garages at $1,700 for the total of $114,500.

These record figures are merely for the first half of the year. Mr. Taylor expects them to hold up or maybe even rise during the last six months of the year.

US Opens BigPower Confabs

Threat of New Russian Drive
Prompts Talks
With 2 Nations

WASHINGTON (P)—Under the threat of a possible new Russian drive to split the West, United States officials start today a series of talks with British and French representatives on problems dividing the three powers.

Korea, Indochina and Germany are high on the list. And the talks get added urgency from the week-end disclosure that Moscow is assigning its chief deputy foreign minister, Andrei Gromyko, to be a ambassador to London.

This looks to some officials like a major new Russian move in the cold war—and, more than likely, one aimed at disrupting the U. S.-British-French alliance.

Against this background, the Big Three powers will discuss, among other things:

1. France's desire for increased American help in carrying on its billion-dollar-a-year war in Indochina. This was expected to be the main theme of conferences to be held by Jean LeTourneau, French minister for relations with the Indochinese States, who had an appointment with Secretary of State Acheson today. The Frenchman also is seeking to learn from State and Defense Department officials how much assistance the United States will give in case of a massive Chinese Communist attack on Indochina.

2. The conduct of Korean truce negotiations and the handling of Communist prisoners of war. These matters are expected to be taken up by the British defense minister, Lord Alexander, who is expected here to see Defense Secretary Lovett and other top American officials next week end. Alexander is in Korea for a personal look at the situation. There has been growing criticism in Britain of the way the Korean sector of the struggle with communism is being run, and the feeling has been voiced that if Britain had had a larger role it might have been run better.

3. How soon and under what conditions the Western Powers should offer to meet with Russia to discuss German issues. These are the key questions to be answered in the preparation here, beginning early this week, of a new move to Moscow on German unification and peace. The Russians have been pressing for talks. The Western Powers have taken the position that the Reds must first agree to a nation-wide political survey of Germany. Recently, however, there have been indications the French and perhaps the British thought a meeting of Big Four officials might be held anyway.

4. A review of the whole range of Allied difficulties, undoubtedly including the Korean, Russian-German and Indochinese as well as other problems. This is expected to be held by the British, French and American foreign ministers when Acheson goes to London in little more than a week.

Western uneasiness developed quickly over the London assignment of Gromyko, one-time Soviet envoy to Washington.

Officials here said this placed a Soviet diplomat of more than ordinary prestige and influence in a key Western European capital. They thought it unlikely the Russians would make such a move simply as part of a routine reshuffling.

While it was possible Gromyko was simply being booted out of the Foreign Office, the importance of the assignment and the state of political relationships among the Western Allies at this time made it seem that he was hand-picked for an important task.

One of the chief elements of these political relationships is that, while the Western Powers have succeeded in completing plans for an alliance with Western Germany and have presented as governments a united front in the Korean negotiations, they have done so in some instances at the cost of increasing popular criticism at home.

Moreover, it is a presidential election year in the United States and various foreign policy questions have arisen in campaign dates.

Diplomats analyzing the Gromyko appointment, and related Kremlin assignments, including transfer of Ambassador Georgi Zarubin from London to Washington—suggested the Russians may regard the political situation in England as one of the weakest points of Allied unity and may seek to exploit it promptly and fully, making in the months ahead supreme effort to split the United States and Britain.

Army Plans POW Work and Play Program When Reds Bow to Allies

Boatner Outlines
Project for Split
Units in Compounds

KOJE ISLAND, Korea (P)—The U. S. Eighth Army plans an extensive work-and-play program for Communist prisoners of war on Kojoe once the POWs recognize Allied authority completely.

Brig. Gen. Haydon L. Boatner, Kojoe commander, hopes to start the program soon after he finishes splitting the present large, unruly compounds into small units.

The dispersal operations probably will be completed within a week.

Field Marshal Lord Alexander, Britain's minister of defense, inspected the POW stockades today. He toured the island in a jeep driven by Boatner.

Alexander was accompanied by Gen. James A. Van Fleet, U. S. Eighth Army commander, and a party of leading military and diplomatic figures.

The group drove through the ruins of Compound 76 where more than 6,000 prisoners fought desperately to prevent being broken up into small units. Boatner told Alexander it was "a hell of a sight."

Alexander made no public statement while on Kojoe.

But Selwyn Lloyd, British minister of state for foreign affairs, said "obviously the situation is being cleared up very fast and a great deal of good work is being done."

Alexander's party returned to the Korean mainland.

Once he has uncontested control over the prisoners, Boatner plans to use POW labor on road construction and other engineering projects. He also plans to expand athletic and other recreational facilities inside compounds. Sports equipment has been ordered.

Eighth Army officers stress that there will be no relaxation of the new firm policy in handling POWs.

The basic policy governing operation of Kojoe prison camps is strict adherence to the Geneva Convention.

Of Kojoe's present POW population of 80,000, some 30,000 will be moved soon to other islands off South Korea.

Remaining POWs will be set to

Malik of Soviet Calls Security Council to Meet

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (P)—Russia's Jacob A. Malik today called a meeting of the United Nations Security Council for Wednesday to discuss Soviet charges the U. N. is carrying on germ warfare in Korea.

The Soviet Union thus apparently decided to air its charges of germ warfare in the Security Council after failing to obtain any action in the U. N. Disarmament Commission.

The United States and other U. N. countries have repeatedly denied the charges and have in fact challenged Malik to take such action.

Malik, joint chairman of the 11-nation Security Council, also placed on the agenda of this meeting the issue of new members. The great powers were asked by the U. N. Assembly in Paris to reconsider the applications of 14 countries. This step is in response to that request. There has been no change in the stalemate on new members.

Sedalia's City Car Licenses Are Now Due

Sedalia's city license stickers for motor vehicles are now due. A deadline has been set as of Friday, June 20, for car owners to get the stickers or be subject to arrest by the police.

Paul Alpert, city clerk, in an endeavor to cooperate with owners of motor cars who are unable to get to the city hall during regular hours, has announced his office will remain open during the noon hour from now through Friday.

Some persons have been going to police headquarters and leaving their money for the car stickers. The money, in turn, is picked up by the clerk, license issued and returned to the police department, as a matter of convenience to those who could not get to the city hall during the regular hours.

Chief of Police Edgar Neighbors has issued a warning that owners of all motor vehicles which do not have the city stickers displayed on the windshield after Friday night, will be subject to be "tagged" by the police, which will result in a fine having to be paid.

Old Age Pensions Up Slightly in Mo.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (P)—Missouri old age pensioners got an average of $2.06 more on their May assistance checks, the state division of welfare reported today.

The increase reflected general boost in assistance payments made possible by an apparent leveling off of the pension rolls and additional appropriations made by the last legislature. During May, 131,311 recipients got a total of $5,998,331. Their checks averaged $45.61.

In April there were 142 more pensioners. Payments totalled $5,733,215, an average of $43.55.

These record figures are merely for the first half of the year. Mr. Taylor expects them to hold up or maybe even rise during the last six months of the year.

work building roads, drainage ditches, fences and camp buildings.

Camp officials declined to say whether prisoners would be paid for such work, as they were in World War II.

No such work projects have existed on Kojoe in its 18 months as a prisoner island.

There will be no effort to reintroduce the education program. Camp officials say that any effort to start it up again would "not be appropriate now."

Perhaps the most ambitious part will be the athletic side. It is planned to expand facilities and provide equipment for track meets, soccer, volleyball, and other sports allowing for mass participation.

It is also expected that recreational facilities will include stages in each compound for plays, musical entertainment, dance performances and singing. Prior to the current breakup of the large compounds, there was a stage in each compound.

Rayburn Doubts Steel Seizure Law Will Come

WASHINGTON (P)—Speaker Rayburn, asked about the possibility Congress might enact steel seizure legislation as requested by President Truman, said today he doubted if anything on steel could be passed now.

Rayburn, Texas Democrat, was questioned by reporters when he and other Democratic congressional leaders left the White House after their usual Monday morning conference with President Truman.

As to when Congress may adjourn, Rayburn said the House is "driving to get out of here before the (national political) conventions." The Republican convention will be the first and begins July 7.

Senate Democratic Leader McFarland (Ariz.) said the Senate is being pressed to dispose of appropriation bills as fast as it can, but as to when it will finish, he said, "we are just driving."

Vice - President Barkley and House Democratic Leader McCormack (Mass.) sat in on the conference.

Midwest Ram Show & Sale Here 2 Days

Big Event Attracts 136 Head of Sheep
For June 27 and 28

Sheep Breeders from seven states have consigned 136 sheep for the eighth annual Midwest Stud Ram Show and Sale at the State Fairgrounds June 27 and 28, according to Rollo E. Singleton, sale manager.

Hampshires represent the largest group, with 80 now consigned. Other breeds include Corriedales, 36; Suffolks, 16; Shropshires, 2; and Oxford, 2.

Nearly $1,000 in premiums will be paid at the show on June 27. Premiums will be judged beginning at 8 a. m., and Suffolks, Corriedales, Oxford, and Shropshires, in that order, in the afternoon.

Premiums will be paid on aged rams, yearling rams, ram lambs, yearling ewes, and ewe lambs.

Judges for the show are H. M. Briggs, Dean of the College of Agriculture, University of Wyoming, who will judge Hampshires and Suffolks, and Glenn Chappell, Green Castle Mo., who will judge Shropshires, Oxford, and Corriedales.

Rams will be sold in the forenoon and ewes in the afternoon of June 28. Col. H. Earl Wright, Mt. Gilead, Ohio, will be the auctioneer. Sale will begin at 9 a. m.

A training school for State Highway Patrol applicants opened at the State Fairgrounds June 16. According to Col. David E. Harrison, Patrol Sup't, 35 new applicants will be added so the Patrol will have enough men to give the new drivers license tests. Several others will be trained to fill vacancies.

The special drivers license test school at the Fairgrounds closed Friday June 13. Thirty-five Highway Patrolmen and several officials from Kansas City and St. Louis had attended the two-week session. Much of their time was spent in studying how to develop a thorough uniform method of testing new applicants for drivers licenses.

The school will end the latter part of July. The State Fair opens August 16, and ends August 24.

The local board does not like to send FBI agents to find registrants who fail to notify them of a change of address, but sometimes it is necessary when the registrant fails to make this change known.

Another problem which has arisen several times at the local board is the failure of young men who become 18 to report to the board for registration. The registrant should be made within five days after becoming 18, and failure to do so is a federal offense and sometimes delinquent registrants are prosecuted.

Mrs. Williams said that it would be very helpful if these young men would keep the board notified of any information which is essential in their draft status and that it would also be much better for the young men themselves.

Other reports which do not necessarily exempt a man from service, but which should be reported to Mrs. Williams, are

Long Island Railroad Strike Bound

One of Nation's Busiest Systems
Strands 150,000

NEW YORK (P)—An engineers' Rail Road today, stranding 150,000 commuters who hurried for every other available sort of transportation.

Traffic was jammed bumper to bumper on the big parkways leading into the city after members of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers struck the nation's biggest commuter railroad.

The motemen and engineers began leaving their jobs shortly after 3 a. m. (EST). A short time later the railroad announced that "all train service is suspended until further notice."

All available buses were pressed into service. All were crowded to the doors. One commuter described passengers as "hanging from the rafters."

Many commuters, taking a look at the crowded highways, simply turned around and went home without trying to get to their jobs in New York City.

Death in the Sierras

By Doris Hudson Moss

THE STORY: Rosemary Curtis finds murder instead of vacation relaxation in the Sierras. Mrs. Ordell, wife of a college professor, has been strangled, then her body mysteriously disappears. In talking to Professor Ordell, Rosemary learns that on the ridge just above the vacation resort lies hidden some money left behind by immigrants. So far it has never been unearthed.

PROFESSOR ORDELL went ahead of me and I followed him by the dancing light of his flashlight. Dr. Roberts came last.

Just as we rounded a curve in the trail that circled a clump of pines that light failed. The battery was burned out.

We were about to stumble along when Sue growled and strained on the leash. There was a rustle in a clump of willows to our left. There was the snapping of a stick, as if a foot had trod upon it.

Without the light we were helpless to see our way, yet we began to run, stumbling over roots and rocks. The professor ran into the brush foolishly toward the noise. I started to race madly toward the lodge.

Then Sue frightened me again by breaking into loud barks. Almost at once we heard the command, "Halt!" and to my utter joy and relief I saw the familiar and reassuring uniform of a state policeman. He ushered me into the lodge door.

I told him of our fright on the trail. Calling another officer, he sent me indoors. Then two of the officers went out to search.

The big room was bright with the light from fire, candles, and lamps. Everyone seemed more cheerful and apparently doubtful for the protection of the law.

"Duke" Torrington, the sheriff of the county, was there. He was a spare, tall man, with eyes close together for all the world like a mule. Murder, one could see, was a bit out of his line. Especially a pede to his bandwagon. Eisenhower's strategy is to let Taft blow his bubble then prick it with enough Eisenhower votes to burst it.

Taft has the advantage of controlling the convention machinery, but Ike can still throw roadblocks in the way of a Taft steamroller. For one thing, he can call up Harold Stassen's votes any time he needs them. These have been secretly pledged by Minnesota's Gov. Elmer Anderson, who speaks for Stassen, California Gov. Earl Warren's 76-vote bloc also leans toward Eisenhower. Both sides claim the majority of Pennsylvania's strategic votes.

Ike also is reported to be making small inroads on the delegates who have visited him. Ten previously uncommitted delegates, including some who were believed to be leaning toward Taft, promised after talking to Eisenhower to support him.

However, it's still anybody's race, and the steamroller operation of Taft's old-guard managers at Chicago may win. After all, this is Taft's last chance at the presidency.

Utah Democrats Pledge Support To Mr. Harriman

SALT LAKE CITY, June 14.—The chairman of Utah's delegation to the Democratic National Convention today pledged his support to W. Averell Harriman and predicted eight of the state's 12 votes would go to the Mutual Security Administrator in his bid for the Democratic Presidential nomination.

The convention chairman, Calvin L. Rampton, and State Chairman Milton L. Wellenman, joined the Harriman forces and Rampton identified three others who he said would back the New Yorker. This would give Harriman three of the 12 votes allotted to Utah's 20-member delegation. Rampton said the other Harriman supporters would be identified later.

Both Rampton and Wellenman accepted positions with the Harriman campaign organization.

The convention chairman made his announcement following a meeting between Harriman and several delegates.

In his major address tonight before some 2,000 Democrats, Harriman said the Republican party should use the dinosaur for a symbol instead of the elephant.

"An extinct creature is more appropriate for the Republicans, the party that looks backward instead of forward," Harriman said in remarks prepared for the annual Sagebrush Democratic Club outing at nearby Logan.

It has been calculated that there are 10 billion tons of gold in the sea water of the world.

UNCLE EF

We were having a discussion at the store last night about some of the problems facing delegates to the national conventions in July. With television cameras going all the time, some delegates won't dare go to sleep during the long-winded nominating and seconding speeches for fear of getting a telegram from home telling them to wake up.

THE RESEMBLANCE IS NOT COINCIDENTAL

TOGETHER he and I, with Sue following, walked across the meadow to the barn. The James car was there as were the several other motors of the others at the lodge. The horses that the officers and the sheriff had ridden were in their stalls, comfortably nibbling hay. A fourth horse was mud-splashed, and showed every sign of having been hard-ridden. I saw that Duncan looked at him closely and measured the length of the stirrup strap of a saddle on the floor.

But my car was gone!

"You wouldn't mind me, would you?" Duncan inquired a bit sarcastically as he watched me closely in the unmerciful light of the new day.

"No, I wouldn't. The fact is, I was let in for something when I came to this horrible place. I want to get out!"

Because it had been such a bad night and because I seemed hedged about with damaging evidence of which I was innocent and knew nothing, I burst into hysterical weeping. And in between the sobs that relieved my nerves and racked my body, I told Sergeant Duncan the story of the treasure.

He listened quietly and gave me his very clean handkerchief with which to mop up my hysterics.

When I again had myself in hand, he said to me in a matter-of-fact tone as he watched me closely to see the effect of his words, "Sure you didn't murder your own sister?"

I gasped, "I have no sister!"

"No? Well, you used to have before she died of a bullet hole through her head. She had your same red hair and blue eyes."

The World Today-- Taft Gets Assist from Pros

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP)—Win or lose, at least Sen. Taft has had expert help in trying for the presidency. The men around him are a bunch of pros.

There are two Taft headquarters. The one here, the political headquarters, is called the "Taft Committee." The other, in New York, is named "Citizens for Taft."

Eisenhower has a political headquarters here and another in New York, called "Citizens for Eisenhower."

In addition to regularly paid staffs, both men get office help from volunteers. And there are various Taft and Eisenhower organizations around the country.

Taft's cousin, David S. Ingalls, is chairman of the Taft Committee here. The New York headquarters is headed by Lt. Gen. Albert Wedemeyer, the only non-pro in this story.

Like Taft, his cousin Ingalls is an Ohioan, a lawyer, and a Yale man. Besides time spent as a Navy captain and undersecretary of the Navy, the gray-haired, pleasant Ingalls has been in politics since the 1920s. He helped Taft in his successful campaign for reelection to the Senate in 1950.

Thomas E. Coleman, a lean and sharp-eyed industrialist from Madison, Wis., is one of the key men around Taft. He was Harold Stassen's campaign manager in 1948, when Stassen got nowhere. He's in charge of Taft's campaign in the Midwest, where he's been in politics a long time. The Taft people picked him to be their floor manager at the convention.

Still in his 30s, Richard L. Gully handles Taft's publicity. Although his regular job is with a New York public relations firm, he's no political amateur either. He steered Taft's publicity in that 1950 campaign.

Then there's John D. M. Hamilton, who was chairman of the Republican National Committee back in the 1930s when Gov. Al Landon got the Republican nomination but lost in crushing defeat to President Roosevelt.

Two other top Taft lieutenants are congressional Clarence Brown, an Ohio publisher, and Carroll Reece of Tennessee, who has been an educator as well as a politician. Both have been in politics for years.

As Dewey's failures showed, the pros around you can't always win you the presidency. But they're a big help in getting you the nomination.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

Under auspices of the Sedalia Trade Extension Program, the Sedalia Boys' Band was scheduled for concerts at La Monte the night of June 16 and Cole Camp the following Thursday, June 23.

The contract for erection of the new St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Broadway and Massachusetts, attracted a large number of bidders. The award will be made Friday night. The Rev. H. H. Heidebreder is pastor of the church.

Col. John F. Williams, Columbia, was at the drill of the National Guard units in Sedalia and plans were furthered for the trip by motorized equipment to the summer encampment at Ft. Riley, Kan.

A. L. Ferguson, Columbia druggist, former resident of Sedalia and brother of Dr. W. J. Ferguson of this city, died unexpectedly following a short illness.

FORTY YEARS AGO

Col. J. West Goodwin, whose left leg was amputated at Maxwell Hospital, was sufficiently recovered to be able to take an automobile ride from the hospital to the downtown district in company with Dr. E. A. Wood.

Leon Barnard, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Barnard, graduate of Harvard University, was here visiting his parents after a trip to New Orleans and points in Texas. He graduated in the law school at Harvard and contemplated practice at some point in the west.

John Devlin, widely known traveling salesman of this city, left for a visit with relatives in St. Louis and was to go from there to Chicago to be an interested spectator at the Republican national convention.

Blasts In Big US Munitions Dump Kill, Hurt

SEOUL, Korea (AP)—Infantrymen of the U. S. 45th Division today smashed an artillery-supported Chinese attack on a hill formation on the Western Front. The five-day battle has cost the Reds more than 1,000 casualties.

The reinforced Americans knocked back about 750 Chinese in a bitter seven-hour scrap. The Reds' objective was the bottom part of a T-shaped hill west of Chorwon. U. S. troops hold three knobs of the hill.

Fighting also continued at a stepped-up pace at other friction spots on the 155-mile front. There were brisk clashes Sunday near Panmunjom, Korangpo and Yonchon in the West; around Kumbha Kimsong and the Pukhan River in the center, and near the Punch Bowl in the East.

U. S. Eighth Army staff officers have offered no explanation of the stepped-up fighting, the toughest of the year.

American Sabre jet pilots reported three Communist jets destroyed and one damaged in two fights Sunday south of the Manchurian border.

Second Lt. James Low of Sausalito, Calif., only six months out of pilot school, shot down one and became America's 17th jet ace with a total of five MIG kills. He has been in Korea only six weeks.

In the fight for T-hill American and Chinese fired heavy artillery and mortar barrages. Red shelling continued at perhaps the fastest pace of the nearly two-year-old war, knocked out land communications between 45th Division headquarters and U. S. troops on Hill T.

The Chinese began attacking Sunday night at 9:15. Two hours later the assault had built up to battalion strength and the Americans called for reinforcements, who had to move through Red artillery fire.

The Reds withdrew at 4:15 a.m. Two other hills west of Chorwon were assaulted by Chinese Sunday but American defenders threw them back.

Post-Dispatch Backs Donnelly And Elliott

ST. LOUIS, June 14.—(AP)—The Post-Dispatch tonight announced editorial support of Phil M. Donnelly and Howard Elliott in their bids for nomination as governor by their respective parties.

Donnelly is opposed in the Democratic primary by Congressman Phil Welch of St. Joseph. Elliott's chief opponent in the Republican primary is Mayor Stanley I. Dale, also of St. Joseph.

The newspaper said that Donnelly "has the stronger claim for favor in the Democratic primary and Howard Elliott is the best qualified contender on the Republican side."

"If Mr. Donnelly and Mr. Elliott are nominated in August the state of Missouri should come out with a courageous able, experienced governor regardless of the presidential result in November."

It was formerly believed that the earliest men were of very large size and that contemporary men were dwarfed descendants, but in recent centuries it has been recognized that there is little or no basis for such a belief.

Ike Becomes Fighter, May Yet Slug It Out With Taft

WASHINGTON (AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower is edging slowly into the role of a fighting candidate. He and Sen. Robert A. Taft may yet be slugging it out toe-to-toe for the Republican presidential nomination.

Two weeks of civilian campaigning appear to have drawn the five-star general much farther into the active battle for the nomination than he expected when he first returned from Europe.

Some of Eisenhower's associates are predicting that before the end of another week he will abandon his already strained "no personalities" rule and will be striking out directly at Taft, his chief rival.

Already, his aides say, the general came closer in a Saturday night speech in Detroit than ever before to becoming the battling candidate they want to see in action.

In that speech Eisenhower labeled himself a "no-deal" candidate—a thrust at Taft's maneuvers to control the machinery of the GOP convention opening in Chicago July 7.

Having kissed babies, ridden bareheaded in parades, signed autographs and accepted carved wooden elephants, Eisenhower has come a long way from the attitude he expressed in Europe. There he said if the American people wanted him they knew where to find him.

The next step, some of his advisers say, will be to join personally in the hue and cry his campaign managers have raised about what they call the theft of delegates by the Taft forces in Texas and other states.

The general hadn't got that far in a Detroit news conference yesterday. He said all he knew about this was what he read in the papers.

Taft backers generally will welcome a knock-down fight with Eisenhower, believing the Ohio senator is more adept at that kind of politics than the general.

Compared with the smooth operation of Taft's well-trained political aides, the Eisenhower campaign still bears the aura of an amateur performance. Nobody is quite certain what is going to happen, or where.

Eisenhower himself makes it

Truman Gun-Shy About Shot That Would Stop MacArthur

By Drew Pearson

(Copyright, 1951, By The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

WASHINGTON — President Truman has had a letter on his desk for some time regarding the hot question of General MacArthur's engaging in politics while on active duty. However, he's been gun shy about slapping MacArthur down.

The letter was drafted by Secretary of the Army Pace, who has been itching to crack down on MacArthur. He sent the letter only after the question of MacArthur's right to engage in politics had been carefully considered by the Judge Advocate General.

The latter ruled that MacArthur was clearly violating army regulations.

1st, he is on active duty, assigned by the Army to New York.

2nd, Army Regulation 600-10 forbids political activity by "Members of the Army while on active duty," and specifically bans "Activities at political conventions."

MacArthur has now been named Keynote Speaker at the Republican National Convention.

3rd, the Hatch Act prohibits officers on active duty from taking part in political campaigns. The penalty is to remove the officer from active duty.

In other words, MacArthur is now violating both the Hatch Act and army regulations. Meanwhile, Eisenhower has given up his army rank and the $19,000 salary that goes with it — the same salary drawn by MacArthur.

However, President Truman, perhaps because he got burnt once before in cracking down on MacArthur, hasn't ok'd the proposed letter of his army secretary.

Harry Vaughan's Medal

The ambassador of tiny Honduras, as has given sharp contrast to the military aide of the president of the United States by turning down a decoration from Argentina.

Whereas backslapping Maj. Gen. Harry Vaughan caused a national furor by accepting a decoration from Dictator Peron, Ambassador Rafael Heliodora Valle of Honduras has quietly written a letter to Foreign Minister Remerino of Argentina declining the highest of all Argentine awards.

General Vaughan was given the order of liberator for his alleged "constant and efficient efforts in the favor of close and friendly relations." Just what he did to cement friendly relations while Peron was trying to upset them, is not known. But anyway the medal was pinned on Harry's breast during ceremonies at the Argentine Embassy, despite the fact that Peron has been a bitter critic of the United States and has been organizing an Anti-U. S. Bloc in various parts of Latin America.

Congress was so wrathful over the award to Vaughan that it refused to accept it, and the medal is still reposing in a state department vault waiting the time when he retires from active service.

In contrast, Ambassador Valle was awarded the highest of all Argentine decorations, "The Great Cross," higher than that given to Vaughan. Announcement of the award was made in Buenos Aires without consulting Valle or he would have saved Argentina some embarrassment. Though Honduras is a small country and can't afford to antagonize one of the most powerful nations in the western hemisphere, nevertheless, the ambassador wrote the Argentine Foreign Minister that he had previously worked for the Argentine Newspaper La Prensa, and therefore could not accept a decoration from a government which had suppressed that great paper.

NOTE—When Vaughan's Argentine medal came before a committee of congress it was the subject of so much caustic questioning by Congressman Norblad of Oregon that it isn't likely to be referred to congress again.

Ike-VS-Taft Showdown

With the big Chicago showdown between Taft and Eisenhower less than a month away, the political pundits have a hard time making up their minds who will win out in the neck-and-neck race.

Despite all the conflicting figures, the secret tallies show a maximum of 540 first ballots for Taft, 521 for Eisenhower. But Ike shows more reserve strength. Whether these figures will hold up against the tremendous, last-minute pressures and undercurrents, is another question.

Senator Taft's strategy is to create the psychological impression that he is a sure winner, in the hope of causing a first-ballot stampede to his bandwagon. Eisenhower's strategy is to let Taft blow his bubble then prick it with enough Eisenhower votes to burst it.

Taft has the advantage of controlling the convention machinery, but Ike can still throw roadblocks in the way of a Taft steamroller. For one thing, he can call up Harold Stassen's votes any time he needs them. These have been secretly pledged by Minnesota's Gov. Elmer Anderson, who speaks for Stassen, California Gov. Earl Warren's 76-vote bloc also leans toward Eisenhower. Both sides claim the majority of Pennsylvania's strategic votes.

Ike also is reported to be making small inroads on the delegates who have visited him. Ten previously uncommitted delegates, including some who were believed to be leaning toward Taft, promised after talking to Eisenhower to support him.

However, it's still anybody's race, and the steamroller operation of Taft's old-guard managers at Chicago may win. After all, this is Taft's last chance at the presidency.

Utah Democrats Pledge Support To Mr. Harriman

SALT LAKE CITY, June 14.—The chairman of Utah's delegation to the Democratic National Convention today pledged his support to W. Averell Harriman and predicted eight of the state's 12 votes would go to the Mutual Security Administrator in his bid for the Democratic Presidential nomination.

The convention chairman, Calvin L. Rampton, and State Chairman Milton L. Wellenman, joined the Harriman forces and Rampton identified three others who he said would back the New Yorker. This would give Harriman three of the 12 votes allotted to Utah's 20-member delegation. Rampton said the other Harriman supporters would be identified later.

Both Rampton and Wellenman accepted positions with the Harriman campaign organization.

The convention chairman made his announcement following a meeting between Harriman and several delegates.

In his major address tonight before some 2,000 Democrats, Harriman said the Republican party should use the dinosaur for a symbol instead of the elephant.

"An extinct creature is more appropriate for the Republicans, the party that looks backward instead of forward," Harriman said in remarks prepared for the annual Sagebrush Democratic Club outing at nearby Logan.

It has been calculated that there are 10 billion tons of gold in the sea water of the world.

UNCLE EF

We were having a discussion at the store last night about some of the problems facing delegates to the national conventions in July. With television cameras going all the time, some delegates won't dare go to sleep during the long-winded nominating and seconding speeches for fear of getting a telegram from home telling them to wake up.

THE RESEMBLANCE IS NOT COINCIDENTAL

TOGETHER he and I, with Sue following, walked across the meadow to the barn. The James car was there as were the several other motors of the others at the lodge. The horses that the officers and the sheriff had ridden were in their stalls, comfortably nibbling hay. A fourth horse was mud-splashed, and showed every sign of having been hard-ridden. I saw that Duncan looked at him closely and measured the length of the stirrup strap of a saddle on the floor.

But my car was gone!

"You wouldn't mind me, would you?" Duncan inquired a bit sarcastically as he watched me closely in the unmerciful light of the new day.

"No, I wouldn't. The fact is, I was let in for something when I came to this horrible place. I want to get out!"

Because it had been such a bad night and because I seemed hedged about with damaging evidence of which I was innocent and knew nothing, I burst into hysterical weeping. And in between the sobs that relieved my nerves and racked my body, I told Sergeant Duncan the story of the treasure.

He listened quietly and gave me his very clean handkerchief with which to mop up my hysterics.

When I again had myself in hand, he said to me in a matter-of-fact tone as he watched me closely to see the effect of his words, "Sure you didn't murder your own sister?"

I gasped, "I have no sister!"

"No? Well, you used to have before she died of a bullet hole through her head. She had your same red hair and blue eyes."

Did you say 2 beers?

No—I said 2 beers in 1

THAT'S Country Club

Only Country Club is made from 2 fully aged beers . . . one light, one dry. Result: mmm! The Bright Beer!

Man to man, things have a way of looking brighter over a brimming glass of Country Club!

And the reason, if you'd like to know, is this—

Country Club is two beers in one! One beer is a light beer, complete and perfect in itself! One beer is a dry beer, brewed to perfection, too. Together they make the beer of extra enjoyment: Country Club—the bright beer!

Yes, it's easy to keep things on the bright side . . . with a glass of golden Country Club by your side!

Justice Dept. Reorganization Is Underway

WASHINGTON (AP)—A broad reorganization of the government's legal branch, the Justice Department, appeared in the making today in the wake of three new resignations by top officials.

Out of office Saturday went exactly half of the six assistant attorneys general.

Harold I. Aynton, 48-year-old Nevada who headed the Office of Alien Property, his unit had been under congressional attack.

H. Graham Morrison, 45, of Johnson City, Tenn., and Bristol, Va., head of the Anti-Trust Division.

William A. Underhill, 42, of Deland Fla., chief of the Lands Division.

President Truman's new attorney general, James P. McGranery, announced in Philadelphia, that the resignations had been accepted.

McGranery succeeded J. Howard McGrath as head of the Justice Department at the crest of a corruption-in-government uproar that had led to the ouster of still another assistant, T. Lamar Caudle, fired by the President himself.

The departure of the three others was less dramatic.

When McGranery took office May 27, all division heads submitted "courtesy resignations," so that the new chief might have a free hand in organizing his department.

McGranery announced Saturday, without elaboration, that three of these resignations were being accepted.

Those leaving, for a return to private law practice, all served under both McGrath and his predecessor, Tom Clark, now a Supreme Court justice.

Rep. Hillings (R-Calif.), a member of the House committee investigating the Justice Department, was among those forecasting additional top-level changes "in the very near future."

He made one new appointment immediately—Rowland F. Kirks, 37-year-old dean of National University Law School here, to succeed baynton as alien property custodian.

Baynton's office has been under fire from Sen. Wiley (R-Wis.) for more than a year. Wiley contends the disposal of some seized property has been operated "as a gray train" for friends of the administration. A Senate committee is investigating Wiley's charges.

Wiley himself made public Saturday a letter from McGranery pledging full co-operation in the inquiry.

Baynton told a reporter that to the best of his knowledge his office "is in excellent shape."

Governor Rules Girls No Can Do Hair-Dos on State's Time

JEFFERSON CITY, (AP)—Girls, you've gotta quit cutting and setting hair on the boss's time.

That's the order of Missouri's government and it applies to women working for the state's sprawling agencies here.

For months, members of the state Cosmetology association have been complaining about the girls doing their own hair—or their friends' in the rest rooms of the capitol and various state buildings.

It looks bad, is unsanitary—say the professional hairdressers—and it takes a lot of working time away from the state.

Besides, it takes business away from the beauty shops.

Miss Jalaine Braver, secretary of the state board of cosmetology, said a lot of complaints have come in. Finally, she called Gov. Forrest Smith's office "a couple days ago."

The governor sent a letter to department heads. The letter was read to the women employees. Section chiefs—mere men who could not have known about the practice because it went on in the women's rest rooms—read the letters aloud and admonished the women: If you've been doing it, stop.

And to keep suspicion from pointing your finger at you, don't come to work with your hair done up in pin curls or wrapped in a scarf. It looks bad.

Several women employees said it apparently isn't very generally done, anyway. They hadn't noticed it especially, they said.

And Mike Nacy, head of the janitor's staff, said he didn't know anything about it. His employees have to keep the rest rooms clean and hadn't reported any such goings on to him, he said.

Still, he added, there are a lot of state employees who think a state job is sort of a paid vacation. If the women are giving each other hair-dos on the state's time, they ought to stop, he said.

At least one department head said it was a shame the governor had to use his time to settle a thing like this, anyway.

Local DeMolays Attend State Council Meeting

Maxwell, Billy Williams, Gary Johnson, George Fairfax, Albert Fox, Charles Rosen-crans, Larry Goldman, Donald Hofheins, Donald Rapp and Nelson Painter, members of the Sedalia Chapter, Fred Doty, a candidate, and W. L. Matthews, Howard Gwinn, Fred Nuzum Jr., and Hans Paul, advisors.

The council opened on Wednesday afternoon with registration of all boys and advisors. Thursday was a day of sports, consisting of bowling, tennis, swimming, golf and softball.

Friday opened with the initiation degree being conferred on a class of candidates from all the chapters, followed by the regular business meeting. The annual banquet was served at 6:30 p. m. at the Masonic temple with Mayor Stanley I. Dale of St. Joseph as the guest speaker. The grand ball followed at 9 p. m. at the "athwest Missouri State College.

Saturday opened with the DeMolay degree being conferred, closing of all business and election and installation of officers. Ronald Compton, Rivermines, was elected state master counselor; Lee Boyd Springfield, state senior counselor; and Charles Dotson, Kansas City, state junior counselor.

The 1953 State Council will be held in the mineral res district at Rivermines during the week of June 15.

Copper Purchased in New York For First Bathtub on E. Third

The real story of the old copper bathtub in the yard of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Hasfurther, 1102 East Third, is told by a relative of the family who put in the bathroom.

Joshua Parish and his wife decided they would like to have a bathroom, but there was no sewerage in the part of town to which they could connect. Mr. Parish had plenty of money and was a very prominent man in Sedalia and the rumor that he mortgaged his house for $200 to buy the tub was not only false, but he paid a great deal of money to get a bathroom.

Thinking that people of the neighborhood might also be interested in having bathrooms, Mr. Parish tried circulating a petition among the neighbors—but they weren't interested.

NATIONAL STOCKYARDS,

The Relaxes Before Opens Real Drive

DENVER — Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower took time out from politics today to polish up his golf game and relax briefly before entering the last hard drive to win the Republican presidential nomination.

The general called off all public appearances except a brief visit to a breakfast meeting of Western farm editors. There will be a steak dinner with newsmen late in the day and a quiet evening with his family.

Tomorrow he will officially open his headquarters in the Brown Palace Hotel here and plunge into the stretch fight for the nomination. Over the week end, the general gave a generous sample of what can be expected in the days to come.

He gave three talks in Detroit, held an unusual Sunday morning news conference, conferred with Republican delegates, and then flew here to receive a roaring welcome from tens of thousands of people who stood under a broiling sun to cheer him and his wife Mamie.

In those two days, the general looked more like a fighting candidate than he has at any time since he gave up command of the Western European defense forces and retired from active Army duty to enter politics.

Developments popped forth in rapid-fire order as Eisenhower made these moves:

1. Labeled himself "strictly a no-ideal man" without political commitments in his fight for the presidency.

2. Scrapped the two carefully prepared speeches of his advisers and struck out in Detroit in off-the-cuff talks to convince the people in his own way. He said if an "honest, decent approach" isn't enough—then there is nothing more he can do.

3. Strongly defended the Joint Chiefs of Staff and in effect said he wouldn't bring Gen. Douglas MacArthur into the government if he were Eisenhower's adviser.

4. Repeated that the Democrats must be dumped from power and implied he was just the man who could do it.

5. Declared that corruption could be cleaned out of government and added "that applies to primaries... and that applies to my native state of Texas."

This was interpreted as a sharp jab at the Taft forces, who have been accused by the Eisenhower people of "stealing" Republican delegates in Texas.

6. Said he favored keeping diplomatic avenues open abroad—but he would leave to public opinion the decision of whether or not an ambassador should be sent to the Vatican.

7. Said the "truth and facts" should be known about the Texas dispute over GOP delegates to the national convention.

The general didn't back down from a previous statement that he believes 40 billion dollars can be cut from the nation's budget. Both Sen. Taft and President Truman have said it wouldn't be possible at this time.

Eisenhower insisted costs could be reduced by a "little business sense" and that when a real peace program is put together—then the deficit could be wiped out in the savings that would follow.

The general's arrival here was a homecoming for Mrs. Eisenhower, whose mother, Mrs. John Doud, lives in Denver. The big crowds which greeted them gave Mamie almost as many cheers as they did her famous husband.

Among early Anglo-Saxons a bridegroom was given a shoe by the bride's father and custom dictated that he strike his bride on the head with it to prove he was master.

State Fair Saddle Club Active In Local Affairs, To Be In Rodeo

It looks like the old time blacksmith, who has become almost a memory, should soon come into his own again with saddle clubs springing up all over the country. Of course we don't know but we suppose horses have no new style shoes that won't require a blacksmith.

Anyway, everywhere there seems to be a saddle club so on Jan. 14 this year, which was Monday, 48 men and women met at the Chamber of Commerce and decided it was time for Sedalia to have one, too. So plans were made with Lloyd Kirkpatrick calling the meeting to order after which he was elected temporary chairman, with Charles Ramseyer, secretary, and Phillip Pfeiffer, treasurer.

Then came the choosing of a name and the group had to think a little bit on that—they couldn't seem to find the right name, but before the meeting broke up 26 of the group became members for a fee of $1.00.

The second meeting drew more than 100 people and it was that night the name of State Fair Saddle Club of Sedalia was selected. The club decided to meet in the court house on the third Monday of each month at 8 p. m. for a business meeting and the by-laws of the Warrensburg club were adopted.

Lloyd Kirkpatrick had his temporary job changed to a permanent one as president of the new organization. Charles Ramseyer was elected vice president, Mrs. Clay Brown, secretary, and Phil Pfeiffer still held on to the money. Drill and parade directors elected were Pentleton Hieronymus and Clay Brown. For the board of directors Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Twenter, Bishop Beam, N. E. Killion and Homer Baker were elected.

The colors are green and gold. The following committees were set up: Education, membership, publicity, chuck wagon and parade, and a chairman for each was chosen.

Taft-Kefauver Stage Hot Battle; Preview of Future?

WASHINGTON — If it should be Taft of Ohio vs. Kefauver of Tennessee in the main presidential bout, you can look for a free-swinging battle right up to the knockout.

The two senators staged a gloves-off demonstration of this on television last night. When it ended, the perspiring Taft called it the hottest broadcast of the year—and apparently he wasn't talking about the weather.

"Slur!" Republican Taft cried at one point.

"Then I'll take it back," Democrat Kefauver offered.

That was easily the greatest display of senatorial courtesy that occurred as the legislators—each leading his party in the number of convention delegates—debated foreign policy and a slate full of other issues on "American Forum of the Air."

Once Kefauver called Taft an isolationist.

"Oh, no! no!" the Ohioan objected.

Again, Kefauver—who gained fame as a televised crime-prober—said it's necessary to weed out racketeers and fixers at all levels.

"Sen. Kefauver and I seem to agree," Taft interjected, "that we ought to throw the administration out on the issue of dishonesty."

The series of barbed exchanges wound up a busy day for both candidates.

Taft had been on television earlier and he said, among other things, that it's now or never so far as his presidential hopes are concerned.

"I'm 62 years old," he said, "and I'll never run for president again."

But he said he thinks he has just about enough votes to win the nomination this time.

What about Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's description of himself, in a Detroit speech Saturday, as a "no-deal" candidate?

Taft said he has made no deals, either—and owes no political debts to anyone.

Was it quite cricket, he was asked, to choose a Taft supporter, Gen. Douglas MacArthur, as the GOP convention keynoter?

Taft said it would be hard to find somebody who hasn't taken into the backyard act, but the camera picked her up, looking somewhat wistfully out of an upstairs window.

She had mumps.

During World War II the Anglo-Egyptian Sudan was an essential link in the Allied supply line to the Middle East and a bulwark in the battle for North Africa.

Fall Hurls, Hits Post 16 To 16-4 Win

The Post 16 Junior Legion, behind the pitching and hitting of Jim Fall, won an easy victory over the Post 88 team at their park, 16 to 4, Sunday. Fall held the Post 88 team to six hits while his teammates collected 15 hits off the offerings of Herndon of the Post 88 team.

Falls highlighted the game with two long home runs next to the swimming pool and got three for five at the plate. Elroy Burton also connected for a circuit clout in the top half of the seventh. Matney Lane, outfielder, held the batting honors for the Post 16 team, getting three for three.

Bobby Case, Post 16 shortstop, injured his leg as he was sliding into third base in the second inning.

H. Herndon gave up 15 hits and walked six as he was charged with the loss. Caldwell, Post 88 first baseman, held his team with two out of four at the plate.

Tuesday night the Post 16 team will play the Marshall Legion team at Liberty Park at 8 o'clock.

3rd Pirate Whitewash

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Lefty Howie Pollet's five-hit shutout over the Philadelphia Phils yesterday was only the third whitewash job turned in by a Pittsburgh moundman this season. The others were by Bob Friend and Murry Dickson.

Ambulance Service Ph. 8 Adv

Imagine a big league baseball team dissipating an 11-0 lead? Sounds incredible, doesn't it? It happened, though. No later than yesterday and by none other than the National League Champion New York Giants.

Sunday produced lots of excitement as the New York Yankees increased their first place lead in the American League with two victories over the Cleveland Indians, the Boston Braves chilled the red hot Chicago Cubs with a double defeat and the Cincinnati Reds won their first game of the season from the Brooklyn Dodgers.

Nothing, however, matched the St. Louis Cardinals' feat of overcoming the Giants' 11-0 lead to win 14-12.

The proud Polo Grounders gained a split by winning the second game, 3-0. But oh, what a first game! Leading 11-0 after four innings with ace Sal Maglie on the mound and losing the game? The Giants still can't believe it.

So certain was Manager Leo Durocher of winning the game, he rested sluggers Wes Westrum and Bob Elliott after the third inning.

There is one consolation for the Giants though. Their 11-run squander is not a record. Exactly 27 years ago—June 15, 1925—the Cleveland Indians were riding high on a 15-3 lead only to see the Philadelphia Athletics warm up with a run in the seventh inning and catch fire with 13 more tallies in the eighth to win 17-15.

Yesterday the Redbirds, held runless for four innings, routed Maglie with a seven-run fifth, climaxed by Enos Slaughter's three-run homer. Three more runs off Hoyt Wilhelm in the seventh out the Giants margin to one run. Solly Hemus' leadoff homer off George Spawyer in the eighth tied the score at 11-11, and Slaughter's single off loser Max Lanier in the same inning finally put the Cards in front, 12-11. Another homer by Hemus with one on in the ninth offset a Giant score in their half of the last frame.

The Yankees opened up a game and a half lead in the American, thrashing the Indians twice, 8-2 and 4-3. Ed Lopat coasted to the first game victory. Bob Kuzava, making his first start, won the second. Bob Lemon and Steve Gromek were the losers.

The second-place Red Sox fought back for a split with a second game 3-2 triumph after Saul Rogo vin had pitched the Chicago White Sox to a 7-2 win. Rookie Dick Gernert's first major league homer, with a mate aboard, provided the Red Sox winning margin. Eddie Stewart drove in three Chicago runs with three hits in the opener.

The St. Louis Browns won their first doubleheader of the season, whipping the Athletics twice, 6-3 and 7-6 in 11 innings. Outfielder George Schmees drove in Jim Rivera with the winning run in the nightcap. Rivera had five hits in the twin bill.

Detroit and Washington split. Home runs by Vic Wertz, Gerry Priddy, Fred Hatfield and Pat Mullin won the first game 6-3 for the Tigers. Walt Masterson, pitching his first complete game in two years, spaced eight hits for a 4-2 Washington win in the nightcap.

A seven-run seventh inning by Cincinnati, highlighted by Grady Hatton's three-run homer off relief pitcher John Ruthenford, enabled the Reds to overcome a 4-1 deficit and beat the Brooks, 7-4.

Artight pitching by Jim Wilson and Max Surkont paced the Braves to their 4-1 and 2-0 triumphs over the Cubs. Rookie Ed Mathews hit his 10th homer for the Braves in the opener and shortstop Bob Logan drove in both Boston runs in the nightcap.

Howie Pollet hurled the last-place Pittsburgh Pirates to a five-hit 6-0 triumph over the Philadelphia Phillies but Howie Fox came back to throttle the Pirates, 6-4 on four hits in the nightcap.

NEW YORK (AP)—Outfielder Willard Marshall of Cincinnati apparently has found a new lease on life since donning a Redleg uniform. Marshall, recently acquired from the Boston Braves, has hit safely in all 11 games he has played with the Reds. He collected three hits in yesterday's 7-4 victory over the Brooklyn Dodgers.

Tigers' Home Run Smashes Draw Crowds

DETROIT (AP)—Now playing here at Briggs Stadium; the home run story! And what a change in the script!

The tattered Tigers smacked only 19 homers in the season's first 40 games. Since the giant trade June 3 with the Boston Red Sox, the Tigers slammed 17 homers in 14 games.

The splurge by Vic Wertz, Walt Drogo and six others has definitely helped Manager Red Rolfe hold his job. Despite the Tigers' last-place standing, fans are coming to the ball park in surprising numbers.

Four homers yesterday scored all the Tigers' runs in a 6-3 victory over the Washington Senators.

Today the Tigers rank behind only the Cleveland Indians and Boston as home-run hitters, even leading the New York Yankees.

Wertz and Drogo are tied with Cleveland's Al Rosen for the American League homer lead, each with 11. Don Lenhardt, acquired from Boston along with Drogo, is tied with three others behind the leaders. Each has 9.

Oddly enough, the Tigers won only four of the 14 games.

When Wertz and Pat Mullin blasted two-run homers and Jerry Priddy and Fred Hatfield, a former Bostonian, powered one-run homers yesterday, General Manager Charlie Gehringer grinned and said:

"That's a great tonic for everyone on the bench. When you see two or three guys hit those homers, you start feeling stronger."

Here's the home-run count since the trade: Drogo 5; Wertz 3; Priddy 3; Lenhardt 2; Johnny Groth, Steve Souchock, Hatfield and Mullin, 1 each.

"If we could only get some pitching along with those homers," sighed Rolfe, "maybe we could get out of the cellar."

NEW YORK (AP)—The longer we think about it the more intrigued we become with the statement attributed to one of the three officials who voted to keep Jersey Joe Walcott in office. He said, in effect, that you can't take a man's title away on a close decision.

All right, why can't you, and how close is close? How many of the 15 rounds should a challenger be expected to win before he can become a champion? Shall we say nine? Ten? And, by the same line of reasoning, shouldn't the Yankees and the Giants each have been given a five or six-game head start in the current pennant races? It causes a man to think.

It seems only yesterday that Bucky Harris, then manager of the Yanks, would sit in his office at the stadium after a game and raise his glass with the toast "Here's to Joe Page!"

Bucky, the most honest of men, didn't want anyone to think he considered himself a mastermind. The Bombers were winning the '47 flag, and he wanted all to know that Page, his masterful relief pitcher, was the man most responsible.

The next year the joyous southpaw didn't have it, and Bucky lost his job. A few days ago the news came over the wire that Page, at 34, had been released by a club in the Dominican League. Few great players have fallen more swiftly.

We haven't made up our mind whether to debate a recent printed assertion that Eddie Arcaro, the horse jockey, is the country's finest athlete today. Maybe he is, at that. Certainly he is the richest.

Old Banana Nose, as Eddie is known to the fancy, is such a wonder that many experts were convinced he would have won the recent Belmont Stakes on any one of the first three finishers. He did win it, of course, on One Count, an outsider.

It is seldom Eddie has the pleasure of bringing a long shot home. His mounts, whatever their records, always are heavily backed, often down to odds-on. When they fail to win, Eddie is called many things besides Banana Nose, but his hide is thick and the rewards great.

ELMONT, N.Y. (AP)—A young groom and between 12 and 30 horses were killed early today when fire destroyed part of a barn at Belmont Park racetrack.

Screams of the burning horses could be heard a mile away, Long Island residents said.

The groom, tentatively identified as Alfred Mitchell, about 19, of Laurel, Md., was trapped in the flames and burned to a crisp while attempting to save a horse from the blazing barn. He had been sleeping in a stall.

Most of the horses burned were reported to be jumpers, trained by Miss Judy Johnson.

Fifty of the 100 stalls in the burned barn were destroyed. Flames burst 50 or more feet high.

The fire, of undetermined origin, was discovered about 1:25 a.m. Belmont Park closed last week and New York City racing shifted to the Aqueduct Track.

Dog Kills Terrorists

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaya (AP)—Lucky, one of six Alsatian dogs used in jungle operations and station patrol work, has been given official credit for killing three Communist terrorists and capturing another two.

His handler says Lucky is afraid of only two things—tigers and elephants. He won't cross the track of either.

Although trained, maintained and operated by the RAF, the dogs are frequently loaned to the army for operations against Communist guerrillas in the jungles. Their main use is as an ambush precaution.

Charge Reds Responsible For PW Riots

MUNSAN, Korea (P)—The senior United Nations truce negotiator today charged the Communists with responsibility for Red prisoner of war riots and for continuing "a bloody and profitless war."

Maj. Gen. William K. Harrison accused the Red delegates at a fruitless 22-minute session of directing "your captured personnel at Kojoe Island to endanger their lives to further your nefarious schemes."

Hundreds of captured Reds have been killed or wounded on Kojoe Island in Communist-led riots.

The key issue blocking a truce is the U.N. stand that no prisoner be forcibly repatriated. Only 70,000 of 169,000 captured Reds have expressed willingness to return to Red rule.

Harrison said refusal of the Reds to accept this stand was incomprehensible. He added:

"You must realize that you are choosing between an honorable armistice and the continuation of a bloody and profitless conflict."

North Korean Gen. Nam Il replied in stiffened tones. He accused the U.N. of "incessant atrocities" and "slaughtering" of war prisoners. It was the first time in five days he had repeated these charges.

Nam brushed aside Harrison's suggestion that a recess be held to give the Reds "time to reconsider your untenable decision."

Nam Il said he wanted to meet again tomorrow. Harrison agreed to meet at 11 a.m. (9 p.m. Monday, EST).

Field Marshal Lord Alexander, Britain's defense minister, was asked at a news conference in Seoul Sunday what chances the truce talks had to succeed. He replied:

"I wouldn't bet one way or another. It's a tossup as far as I can see. I honestly do not know whether the Communists are sincere."

Alexander said that in his opinion it would not be wise to appoint a British delegate to the armistice talks although "I think the people in Britain would be pleased if they had a representative."

He said appointment of a British representative might give the Communists the false impression that the Allies were changing tactics to yield in the deadlocked talks.

The U.N. Command on Sunday sent the Communists a note accusing them of endangering lives of captured U.N. troops by failing to mark five POW camps in North Korea.

Maj. Gen. William F. Dean, commander of the U.S. 24th Division until his capture in August, 1950, was reported held in one of the camps named.

Harrison's letter to the Reds said:

"Your continued failure to mark adequately many of your prisoner of war camps places in jeopardy the safety and security of our personnel now in your hands."

Broken Hearted Woman's Body Found In Home

HOLLYWOOD (P)—A broken heart was the only reason police could give today for the death of Mrs. Mignonette June Selig, 55, whose body was found in her bedroom Saturday, an estimated two months after she died.

Neighbors told police Mrs. Selig had been grieving for her son Wayne, who was killed in Army action overseas during World War II. When Wayne left for war, Mrs. Selig promised she would leave his room just as it was until he returned. She kept that promise.

On a dust-covered chest of drawers was a company of marching toy soldiers headed toward the door Wayne left open. Beside them was a model construction set. A chemistry set and Wayne's bicycle lay nearby.

Police poked through hip-deep piles of toys and other mementos stuffed in shopping bags. The shopping bags littered tables, the kitchen, the dining room and half filled the bathroom.

Some bags were filled with bright shirts, socks and neckties. Police located Mrs. Selig's brother, who could tell them little. Of the boy he said:

"He was a bright boy and a good boy. That's all I know."

Terrorists Set Fire To Ripe Wheat Fields

TUNIS, Tunisia (P)—Tunisian terrorists adopted new tactics today, setting fire to wheat fields ready for harvest in a move to disrupt the French protectorate's economic life.

The new nationalist activity came after a week end of riots between Jews and Moslems in Tunis. The riots, however, apparently had no connection with the continuing nationalist campaign of anti-French riots and disorders.

French ground and Air Force troops were called out to help fight the wheat field fires as French colonists and Arab farm workers worked to control the flames.

FIT FOR A KING—AND ALL HIS WIVES—Employees of a hearse manufacturer near Cincinnati, O., try out one of the twenty, specially fitted Cadillacs being built as a gift for King Ibn Saud of Saudi Arabia by an American oil company. Each auto, outfitted at a cost of $12,500, will carry six of the King's wives (or former wives) in luxurious, secluded comfort. Special heating and cooling systems, one-way glass in windows, and a panel of red lights by which passengers direct the chauffeur, are among the fittings. The 72-year-old oil-rich monarch is limited by Moslem rules to four wives at a time, but he is said to be responsible for about 120 ex-wives.

ITS ENGINE ADDS MUSCLE TO EVERY DROP OF GAS!

To many owners, the mighty 180 H.P. V-8 engine that powers the Chrysler New Yorker is the most remarkable feature of this remarkable car. It is certainly the most discussed automobile engine in many, many years.

This is the engine with hemispherical combustion chambers . . . the engine that gets more power out of every drop of gas. And non-premium gas at that!

Actually, it puts you in control of more power than you'll probably ever need use. You'll sense this . . . together with its unequalled response . . . the very first yards you drive. It runs smoother, more quietly, and with less wear than any other engine ever built into an American automobile.

. . . and it makes driving (both cruising and the short runs) more fun than you have ever known it to be!

But that's not all. Along with this engine there are scores of other reasons, too, for driving a New Yorker before resolving on any new car. Like Full-time Power Steering that makes steering five times easier . . . and your control five times greater . . . than in ordinary cars. Like Power Brakes that cut needed pedal pressure by as much as two-thirds.

Wartime British Spy Found Fatally Stabbed

LONDON (P)—A beautiful Polish noblewoman with a brilliant war record as a British spy was found stabbed to death early today in a Kensington hotel.

The victim was Countess Krystyna Skarbek, 37, ace saboteur of World War II and a combat veteran of the French Maquis.

Dennis G. Muldowney, 41-year-old porter, was picked up for questioning by detectives.

Hotel guests who heard the countess screaming, "Get him off me!" found her lying dead in a hall with a gaping knife wound in her chest.

The countess, who became a naturalized Briton in 1947, signed on the liner Winchester Castle six weeks ago as a stewardess. She had checked in at the hotel alone on Saturday.
